TO THE CHICAGOS the banner attendance of the meeting and probably a record for the course The betting ring was a crush. The the banner attendance of the meeting The betting ring was a crush. The lawns were black wit hpeople who could not find rom in the grand-stand.

It is a rare sight to see people stand Griffith's Men No Match for ing in the aisles of the grand-stand at Westchester, but that was an actuality Windy City Team in To-Day's this afternon. Song and Wine, coupled with Blandy, was a strong second choice at 7.16. was a strong second choice at 7 to 5, while Belle Strome was quoted at 8 to 1. The pace in the first part of the race was terrific, Tanya lived through it and won by a neck. Shaw eased her in the last stride, but she was all out. Belle Strome hung on the second place to the end, barely beating Blandy and Britisher, who finished very strong, mainly because the pacemaker had retired from the early pace.

The Ladies' Stakes was an easy victory for Beldame, who was a prohibitive favorite. Beldame gave her backers a shock when she came out on parade. She bolded out of line and ran far up the stretch. Then when she was brought back to the start she again bolted and ran through the woods surrounding the stables and the back stretch.

Again she was brought back and get.

Rob Roy made the running, followed by Champlain and Judge Denton. This was the order to the home turn, when Rob Roy opened up a gap of two lengths and was apparently winning easily, when he suddenly collapsed. Judge Denton then showed in front for a few strides. Champlain and Palm Bearer then loomed up and in a rousing drive to the wire, which set the thousands to cheering. Champlain got the decision by the length of a half used lead pencil. Palm Bearer was two lengths before Judge Denton.

Tanya was a warm favorite in the third, the National Stallion Stakes, with the Bennington pair, Blandy and Song and Wine a strong second choice. The betting on the race was practically confined to these stables. When they came into view Tanya, Song and Wine and Belie Strom were racing heads apart. The pace they were setting was terrific, for all behind them were driving hard. Head and head these three came on, and it was seen that they would not last at the dip. Song and Wine was the first to quit, and then Tanya, crept to the front. In the last sixteenth she drew clear, but the back ones were closing with a rush, so that Tanya, eased in the final stride, won by a head from Belle Strome, who beat Blandy a head for the place. Britisher was a head away.

Beldame Worried Her Backers. Beldame, a prohibitive favorite in the ourth, gave her backers a nasty five plinutes by bolting far up the stretch to the way to the post in the Ladies

While the stakes at Westchester this afternoon were rich and very interesting the immensity of the attendance was a matter for comment. At least 30,600 people saw the races run. It was the banner attendance of the meeting the banner attendance of the meeting corm.

St. Jude Wins Grand National. Caller, the favorite in the fifth race, went to the front and made pace followed by St. Jude, Walter Cleary and Lavator, and they ran this way to the top of the hill in the last round. There St. Jude steadily closed on Caller, and nailing him over the last jump, drew uway and won easily by four lengths from Caller, who was fifteen lengths in front of Judge Phillips.

Hermis an Easy Winner in the Sixth. Leonidas and Hermis went away to-gether and set asclipping pace to the turn, opening up a gap of several lengths, followed by Toboggan and Hello. On the turn Leonidas quit and Hermis went on alone, winning easily by four lengths from Toboggan, who, beat Hello four lengths for the place.

3 MURE RAIDS;

Telephone Company Agrees to Have Wires Run Through Police Headquarters for McAdoo, So that Information Sent to Suspicious Places May Be Overheard.

M'ADOO'S LATEST MOVE TO SHUT OFF THE GAMBLERS.

Inspectors Brooks and Titus Raid Three More Alleged Pool - Rooms---Have to Smash in Three Doors of One Before They Get to the Entrance.

Police Commissioner McAdoo reached an understanding with the officials of the New York Telephone Company to-day, by which every bit of news which goes over the telephone wires from the race tracks in this city to those poolrooms which are so well fortified that the getting of evidence agains them is next to impossible, must first pass through Police Headquarters, where it can be listened to by officers stationed there for that specific purpose.

This arrangement was made after a long conference between officials the telephone company and Commissioner McAdoo.

The Commissioner invited the conference and then told the telephone people that there are in New York a large number of poolrooms so exclusive that even an attempted invasion with axes would be useless. Most of these are on the third or fourth floors of buildings, the lower floors of which are rented by the poolroom men. Entrance to these poolrooms is by small elevators only, and the roof entrances are so neavily barred that it is impossible to get in that way.

These rooms get their information by telephone direct from the tracks in most cases, but some of them get it by telephone from distributing points in this city. Commissioner McAdoo's plan was merely that he furnished the telephone people with a list of such places that are Windy City, See McGinnity known to the police, and that the telephone people then arrange their
